FOUNDER & PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Dear Patron & Friends,

When I look back the year which had gone by, I am happy and proud to inform you all that I won the Amazing Indians Award 2023 under the Slum Care Category. Celebrating the extraordinary achievements of ordinary people, the Times Now Amazing Indians Awards 2023 was held on September 29th, 2023, in New Delhi. Piyush Goyal, Minister of Textiles, Minister of Commerce & Industry and Minister of Consumer Affairs, Food and Public Distribution & Smriti Zubin Irani, Minister of Women and Child Development and Minister of Minority Affairs, graced the event as Chief Guests. Children who receive a high-quality education not only acquire knowledge, skills, values, and life skills, but also grow in their social, emotional, and creative domains. It is essential for their personal and cognitive growth, as well as for their ability to think critically and solve problems. All the children should be allowed to attend school and finish their education. A child's physical, mental, and cognitive growth depends on receiving adequate nourishment and first-rate primary healthcare. We believe that no kid, regardless of socioeconomic status, should experience malnourishment or bad health. Children's physical, emotional, mental, and social development can all be adversely affected by exposure to dangerous situations. I extend my gratitude towards our esteemed donors, our teachers, hospital partners, our untiring doctors community and our fund raising team members without whom we would not have achieved this award. I would also like to thank my team who selflessly worked and remain committed to the cause and my special thanks goes to them for being with us always... As we close this chapter in this financial year a new beginning will start with the inauguration of the Orphanage Home for Orphan Girls. I look forward to your continued support in our mission.

With warm regards,

Mrs. Nisha Malawat
Founder & President

MESSAGE FROM THE TRUSTEE

Dear Friends,

As per International Labour Organisation, child labour refers to work that deprives children (any person under 18) of their childhood, their potential and their dignity, and that is harmful to their physical and/or mental development. It refers to work that is mentally, or morally dangerous and harmful to children. Child marriage is one of the most prevalent forms of exploitation and sexual abuse—particularly with girls under the age of 18. Working with the community to eliminate the practice at the village level while simultaneously ensuring that girls go to school instead of becoming child brides and shouldering early motherhood. Every child should have the agency to speak out and/or act on the issues that affect them. It is not only important for their mental and emotional development but also fosters a high degree of self esteem and self belief. Abhilasha Foundation believes that all children have the potential to be agents of change and the ability to hold dialogue on the things that matter to them. Philanthropy has evolved from charitable act to a business necessity. It is also true that government alone cannot solve all social problems. Therefore, as an NGO, we try to support the government.

MISSION EDUCATION

Abhilasha Foundation try to lift all children out of the vicious cycle of poverty and ensure their education through a variety of activities. Children's education cannot be done in isolation, without ensuring the welfare of the whole family and community. Abhilasha Foundation believes that national development starts with the first step of every child across the school gate. Our education programme promotes and catalyses universal education among underprivileged children, creates processes to mainstream these children in a sustained manner, strengthens their abilities to cope up with the formal education system, facilitates them to emerge as productive assets and sets the foundation for nation building. A child's right to education entails the right to learn. More than 600 million children worldwide are unable to attain minimum proficiency levels in reading and even though two thirds of them are in school. There are several reasons why children are not given an education. One of the most persistent obstacles is still poverty. Children who experience natural disasters, political unrest, economic instability, or conflict are more likely to lose their access to education. For many pupils, learning is challenging even at schools due to shortage of qualified teachers, inadequate teaching resources, and subpar facilities. Some arrive at class too fatigued or sick from work or housework, or too hungry or sick to absorb the material. Even in schools, many pupils find learning challenging due to shortage of qualified teachers, limited instructional resources. Most of the world's school-aged children do not have internet connection in their homes, restricting their opportunities to further their learning and skills development. Without quality education, children face considerable barriers to employment later in life. They are more likely to suffer adverse health outcomes and less likely to participate in decisions that affect them – threatening their ability to shape a better future for themselves and their societies. Education is the transmission of knowledge, skills, and character traits. It is acquiring knowledge, developing the powers of reasoning and judgement and preparing oneself intellectually for a mature life.

“Education is not preparation for life, education is life itself”

MISSION HEALTH CARE

The governmental and private sectors that make up the Indian healthcare system are diversified and intricate networks that offer a wide range of medical services to the citizens. Even with all of the modifications over the years, the system still has a lot of problems. Urban-rural disparities, a lack of healthcare specialists, inadequate infrastructure, restricted health insurance coverage, inadequate funding for public healthcare, and a fragmented healthcare system are some of these difficulties. India's healthcare system is facing a major challenge as a result of the country's rising non-communicable illness burden. To guarantee patient safety, encourage high-quality care, and keep costs under control, the nation's healthcare regulatory framework is constantly changing. Furthermore, because of the availability of highly qualified medical professionals, cutting-edge technology and reasonably priced medical procedures, India has become a popular destination for medical tourism. Despite challenges, the continued investment in healthcare and innovation provides reasons to be optimistic about the future of healthcare in India.

India has a shortage of healthcare facilities, especially in rural areas, where the majority of the population resides. Many primary health centers and sub-centers lack essential infrastructure, medical equipment, and resources, making it difficult to provide even basic healthcare services to the population. The insufficient number of healthcare facilities, poorly maintained facilities, inadequate medical equipment and resources, and limited access to advanced healthcare services exacerbate the existing challenges in providing quality healthcare services to the population.

Abhilasha Foundation maintains affiliations with eminent medical facilities, including P D Hinduja National Hospital & Medical Research Center, Bai Jerbai Wadia Hospital for Children, Asian Heart Institute & Research Centre Pvt. Ltd., Sir H N Reliance Foundation Hospital and Research Centre, Kamalnayan Bajaj Hospital, Pune, Jupiter Hospital, Onco Life Cancer Center, Satara, Nanco Hospital, Nashik, Kpond Superspeciality, Aurangabad etc.

Impact: More than 330 critical medical surgeries were carried for the below poverty line children suffering from deathly heart ailments and other diseases. The sponsorship for the same is done by Abhilasha Foundation.

Health awareness: Health awareness for sanitation, dental and eye camps are held frequently in the slum community. Awareness programmes on sanitary pads are given for young girls & women in the community.
